Justice James D. Pardee wishes it distinctly understood that he is a candidate for but one office, and that is county attorney. He is not a candidate for justice of the peace of the First precinct, as some are saying. He says that he has but one ambition in life at this particular time, and that is to be the nominee for county attorney on the Democratic ticket.

James H. Moyle, the chairman of the James H. Moyle, the chairman of the Democratic state committee, joins with Judge H. P. Henderson in urging the Democrats of each precinct to organize a campaign club at the primaries this evening. The fight will be on in all its fury after the state and county conventions are over, and it is considered highly important that every voting district be thoroughly organized and ready for work without delay.

Henry N. Hays, the efficient county clerk of Sevier county and candidate for the nomination for the office of state auditor on the Democratic ticket arrived in the city yesterday and established headquarters at the White House. He was accompanied by Attorney George T. Bean, who is assisting him in his canvass.

Samuel Judd of St. George was one of the early arrivals in the city among the Republican delegates. He was at the White House last evening and said that his county would be represented better in the state convention this year than had been the case in many years before. His county, he said, was soild for Glasmann, as were many of the other counties in that part of the state. Clasmann, he said, was the best man that had come into that part of the sor the Republican solice house as consultation with the Republican politicians of the state, and during the morring met with State Chairman Callister, Postmaster Thomas, P.
